About me
I am a recent graduate in Multimedia & Creative Technologies from Erasmushogeschool Brussel, where I graduated magna cum laude. During my studies, I have built a broad foundation in digital development, with a focus on front-end and a basic understanding of back-end development.

Additionally, I was introduced to UX/UI design, a field that highly interests me and which I want to explore further. I am curious, eager to learn, and motivated to further develop my technical and creative skills in a professional environment.

I am open to feedback and see it as an opportunity to grow. My ambition and eye for detail make me a valuable addition to the team. Thanks to my extensive language skills, I can communicate effectively in various situations.
